COMMUNICATION AND UPDATING
INTRODUCTION

Fincantieri Group (following also Fincantieri, Group or Company) is one of the largest and most diversified shipbuilding groups in Europe and throughout the world. Because of its size and the scope of its activities, it plays a key role in the economic development and welfare of the communities where it operates.

Fincantieri believes that the process of seeking shared value for the Company and its stakeholders is actually an opportunity to accompany profitability with actions aimed at creating social value.

Hence, local experiences become an integral part of projects and initiatives designed to meet shared demands. In this process, Fincantieri is mindful of the local communities’ needs when striving to generate positive impacts that are both tangible and measurable in time.

APPLICABILITY

The Policy applies to Fincantieri S.p.A. and its application is also recommended to all the Group companies.

COMMITMENTS

As stated in its Charter of Sustainability Commitments, Fincantieri is committed to dialoguing with and supporting the local communities through social, cultural, educational and training initiatives, and to collaborate with governments, national and international associations, to adopt policies and strategies that help create a healthy, resilient and sustainable society for everyone.

Fincantieri’s philanthropic activities are consistent with its values, mission and vision. To this end, the company previously assesses all relevant contexts, demands and needs of the local communities where it is present.

The Group supports and involves the local communities by participating in projects and initiatives and granting donations, gifts or investments to social and environmental organizations.

Fincantieri decides which projects or initiatives to support in order to meet the communities’ priority needs and to be actively involved in the social and economic growth process of the territory.
Projects and activities are implemented only after undergoing detailed due diligence, which consists in strictly applying existing relevant procedures such as verifying fund allocation practicability, analyzing the primary needs of the territory in relation to the Company’s presence, studying the project/initiative proposer, making projections about expected benefits.

Fincantieri is committed to implementing actions that will foster the social and economic growth of the people and businesses in the area where it operates. To this end, it favors knowledge transfer processes and the development of local professions by means of educational and training programs. Where economic growth is already ongoing, the Company promotes the transfer of knowledge and technologies that can help the local territory further develop independently.

Fincantieri is oriented towards reducing the social and environmental impact of the activities carried out in its production facilities, by investing in new technologies and providing services for the community.

The Company plans shipyard renovation works after examining every possible way to limit inconveniences resulting from production activities and after taking into consideration the needs and demands expressed by the local territory to improve the welfare of the communities.

Fincantieri’s presence on the world scene entails having to do with many different situations. This requires gaining deep knowledge about the local territory and the stakeholders’ needs in order to meet their requests efficiently and to define priorities. Hence, Fincantieri believes that being ready to engage in dialogue and active participation are necessary conditions to this end.

The Parent Company manages relations with local communities through its Public Affairs Office, which works in close contact with Public Administrations, associations and committees to manage requests to and from the local territory.

Interaction with the community depends on the initiative concerned and it may be in the form of public auditions, submission of documents, private meetings, specialized working groups or workshops.

Strengthening Group identity and the sense of belonging among employees and with the community
